It is a matter of congratulation that Pittsburgh is the healthiest city in the Union, and indeed, in proportion to population, we might add, in the broad world. The mortality list will bear us out in the assertion. For the seven days ending June 9th, there were only seven deaths, three of which resulted from causes generally ignored in forming judgment of the public health, viz. still born, suicide by intemperance and accident. Thus out of a population forced to breathe an atmosphere heavily laden with smoke and soot, with our streets in a filthy condition, our markets supplied in a measure with diseased beef, and undergoing an insufferably warm term of weather, only four were arrested by disease and called to final account. We invite comparison with other cities, believing that no section enjoys greater immunity from disease and death.

"HORACE," the Harrisburg correspondent of the Chambersburg Repository, speaking of the Republican nomination for the Supreme Bench, says:

"I am still of the opinion that it will either be Pearson or Linn. Several of the western counties that have instructed for Williams, as a western man, have expressed their preference for Pearson, as their second choice. The Lawrence County Convention declared for Pearson."

This is only one of a number of recent indications that the belief prevails at the east that the western delegates to the Williamsport Convention have generally not at heart the nomination of Mr. Williams. We trust the event will show that this belief is not well founded.

CUCUMBERS, squashes and melons! Who can inform us how to "beat the bugs," so that a crop of these desirable products can be brought to perfection? The striped bug is infesting gardens now and bids fair to use up all the plants.—Titusville Herald.

Four pieces of twelve inch board, each two feet long, nailed together, with bits of lath laid on top, leaving interstices not exceeding two inches, constitute the cheapest and best remedy. Set the crib fairly in the soil. Observe—the striped bug flies in straight lines, and is not skilled in making angles. He will rarely get inside the crib.

EX-SENATOR HOGE, of Franklin, is seeking a nomination to the Assembly. The Titusville Herald says:

"If every Republican in the county had before him a copy of Hoge's sworn affidavit in Franklin, by which he procured Hon. C. V. Culver's arrest, and the sworn affidavit of the same Hoge when he tried to get hold of Mr. Culver's property in Ohio, the Ignorable (?) Ex-Senator would have but one vote, that of himself."

THE Republicans of Lancaster held a County Convention on Wednesday; abolished the Delegate System, and adopted that of Crawford, under which nominations are made by direct vote of the people; recommended Mr. Thomas E. Franklin for the Supreme bench, and appointed as delegates to the State Convention Messrs. Dickey, Brubaker, Stehman, Myers, Pownall and Frey.

COL. MCCLURE, when last heard from, was still at Denver, hoping to get off for Salt Lake City in a day. Evidently he is fully impressed with his capacity to direct military movements against the Indians, in a manner vastly superior to Generals Sherman, Hancock and Augur.

THE hatred which the Irish bear toward the informer is proverbial, and is illustrated in the mobbing of Corydon at Dublin, by whose testimony the Dungannon Fenian prisoners were identified. We would not take much risk on his life so long as he remains on Irish soil.

THE Sultan of Turkey takes his departure for Paris on Tuesday next. It is said that he will be accompanied by a suite numbering five hundred persons. Napoleon will have some trouble in caring and providing for his distinguished guest and his three hundred mistresses, with attendant eunuchs.

THE Mexican news is not unimportant. Gen. Miramon is reported as having died from the effects of a fever brought on by wounds received at Queratero, while Castello, Mejia and others have been shot. Nothing new has transpired as to what disposition will be made of Maximilian.

A STATEMENT was made several days since that the cholera had disappeared from all parts of the world. That was not true. The disease was prevailing to a fearful extent in the armies of the contending forces of Brazil and Paraguay, up to the date of the most recent advices.

THERE appears to be no end to the number of illicit distilleries in Brooklyn, N. Y. Five more were seized yesterday by the United States revenue officers for alleged violations of the law.

THE PRESIDENT will attend the dedication of a Masonic Temple of the Knights Templar of Boston, on the 24th inst. He will be the guest of the city during his stay.

Koppen, a few years ago of the faculty of Franklin and Marshall College, Pennsylvania, and now instructor and librarian to his Majesty the King of Greece, is re-visiting our country on business, and with a view of inspecting the battle-fields of Virginia and gathering from them some memorials and records for the royal archives of Athens.

The case of Peabody against the United States was before the Court of Claims on the 30th. On a technical point the United States government claim some cotton contributed by the people of Texas to the so-called Confederate Government. The plaintiff, Peabody, put this interrogatory to the American Government, whether there was any law of the United States by which property contributed by any of the inhabitants of a State in the Union could be claimed by the National Government? The reply was, that the United States claimed under the laws of nations. It was contended on the part of Peabody that this answer was not sufficient, and must be set aside. Solicitor Vice Chancellor held that the United States government were bound to answer this question. "Do you claim," he asked, "as there was a de facto government, which exercised authority over the State of Texas?" The answer was in the affirmative.

Indictment Against Members of the Constitutional Convention Set Aside—The Recent Sub-Treasury Defalcation—Attempt at Incendiary to Obtain Insurance.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—A Times' New Orleans special says: The indictments presented against the members of the Constitutional Convention, of Louisiana, for making and assisting an unlawful assembly in holding their Convention, which was interrupted by the riot in New Orleans last July, which resulted in carrying, by order in charge of Judge Abell, since removed by General Sheridan, have been set aside, and a nolle prosequi has been entered, upon the Attorney General Lynch, in the First District Court of the city. He argued that the offence of the accused parties, on which the indictments were found, consisted simply in being present at a deliberative meeting, held for the avowed purpose of advancing by peaceable means the interests and property of the State, and that such meeting constituted no crime, offense, or misdemeanor against the laws of Louisiana; that the right of the aforesaid parties, and all other citizens of the United States to assemble and deliberate peaceably on any subject or matter whatsoever, is secured by the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of Louisiana.

It is stated on good authority that the Treasury Department has received information from New Orleans, implicating a high official of the present State government, in the recent Sub-Treasury defalcation. It is asserted that while in the employ of the Treasury Department he became aware of the fact that Hall failed to report it, as was his duty, and it was not discovered until Secretary McCulloch sent special Agent Knox to New Orleans, for the express purpose of examining the condition of the Depository. The assets turned over by Messrs. Whitaker and May, the defaulting Louisiana sub-Treasurers, although reported to amount to $1,250,000 as security against loss by the Government, has been ascertained to be almost worthless. Among other securities presented by Mr. May, was a draft of four hundred thousand dollars on Gales James, of Massachusetts, on which he signed the name of A. S. Mansfield, per Thomas P. May, which signature Mansfield repudiates as unauthorized by him. It is hardly probable that the Government will realize $500,000, although the defalcations amount altogether to the round sum of $1,600,000. Owing to the precarious condition of financial affairs in New Orleans, Sub-Treasurer Walton, appointed to succeed Whitaker, declines to accept. The great difficulty in getting acceptable bonds. Special Agent Knox, now in New Orleans, has been instructed to examine the commercial status of the parties offered as securities, and to remain there until satisfactory bonds have been obtained.

Death of Miramon—Shooting of Mejia and Others—Maximilian's Fate Undecided—His Proclamation Pronounced a Forgery.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—The Picayune has the following: El Comercio, of Matamoras, of the seventh inst., gives the following extracts from a letter dated Monterey, 2d:

Miramon has died of the fever, which attacked him after he was wounded at Queretaro. Castillo, Mejia and others have been shot.

According to a letter from a creditable person in San Luis, the most profound silence is preserved as to what will be done with Maximilian. The chief functionaries talk both ways.

CONDENSED NEWS.

—The Coroner's jury selected to inquire into the cause of the recent terrible boiler explosion in Philadelphia, found That the explosion of this boiler was the result of over pressure, occasioned by the closing of the stop valve, placed immediately above the boiler, thus shutting off all communication with the safety valve and pressure gauge. The balance of evidence, in the opinion of the jury tended to show that the valve was closed to enable the repairs of the engine to be made. In the opinion of the jury, while the condition of the boiler, as regards construction and material, was thoroughly good, the placing of a stop valve between the boilers and the safety valve and indicator of pressure, was a most unsafe and unjustifiable proceeding, neither warranted by the example nor the opinion of competent engineers.

Steamboat Overloaded and Sunk—A Number of Passengers Missing—Great Tobacco Fair—The Excursionists.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The steamer Governor Sharkey left this port about two o'clock this morning, bound for the Arkansas river with a large cargo of freight, and two hundred government hands for Fort Gibson. The first difficulty of the trip was when the wing from the levee began to sink. She was headed for the shore, and as her bow struck some twenty or more persons jumped ashore. She afterwards got loose herself, and floated into the stream and sunk to the hurricane roof. A yawl from another boat took off the cook, barber and crew, and a large number of the government hands. Many also swam ashore, but it is feared that a large number were drowned. The boat's books and passenger list were lost, and it is probable that the number of missing will never be known.

The steamer governor Sharkey, sunk this morning, had two hundred and fifty tons of Government freight, which doubtless will be a total loss. The boat floated down to near the mouth of the river, where she struck only her pilot house above water. Her Captain thinks not more than four or five lives were lost. The steamer was owned by Capt. Turton, valued at fifteen thousand dollars, and insured for nine thousand four hundred, which is in Cincinnati office.

Loss of the provisions on the steamer Fanny Patten, came off at C. Peppers' warehouse to-day. The attendance was large, including representatives from New York, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri. Jackson, Bracken county, Kentucky; the fourth premium, a ninety dollar silver wine stand, with goblets, for best plug tobacco, was awarded to William Martin, Lincoln county, Missouri. The first prize tobacco was subsequently sold to Wm. WASHINGTON, June 12, 1867.

TRIAL OF SURRATT RESUMED—A JURY NOT YET OBTAINED.

The trial of Surratt was resumed to-day. The talesmen ordered yesterday were called. Several were examined and others summoned in their places. Finally, after a recess, the full number—twenty-six—was obtained.

Mr. Bradley, while avowing his readiness to proceed with the trial, filed a challenge of the present panel as not lawfully summoned, and asking it to be quashed.

The counsel on both sides consented that the defense should strike from the talesmen ten and the United States four, this leaving twelve as the jury. Those selected were: Wm. B. Todd, John R. Elevans, Thomas Blodgen, R. M. Hall, Thomas J. Dewey, Wm. Fisher, Horatio S. Easty, Thomas Ball, Samuel Fowler, J. R. Barr, and Wm. Penney. The gentlemen were requested to stand aside in the jury box.

Several of the jury asked to be excused in consequence of having formed an opinion and entertaining conscientious scruples concerning capital punishment, and order of the Court each man was put on his voir dire. Wm. B. Todd was examined and sworn as the first juror. Wm. Tenney stated he had formed and expressed an opinion, but thought he could give an honest verdict; had no conscientious scruples about inflicting death. The Court ordered him to stand aside for the present, considering him exceptionable. Reverdy Johnson made a similar statement and was ordered to stand aside. Wm. Bender had formed and expressed an opinion, and he feared it might influence his judgment. The Court excused him and Geo. A. Shinn made a similar answer. Ordered to stand aside. R. H. Hall had formed and expressed an opinion, which left him strongly prejudiced. Ordered to stand aside. Thos J. S. Perry had formed and expressed an opinion, but did not think it would influence him. He had conscientious scruples, however, about the death penalty. Ordered to stand aside. Reuben B. Clark had formed and expressed an opinion, and thought it would influence his judgment. Ordered to stand aside. John Van Keswick was not aware he had formed or expressed an opinion. Was excused upon objection to the guilt or innocence.

Mr. Carrington asked to have juror's opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the other conspirators.

Messrs. Bradley and Merrick objected.

Mr. Pierpont thought the inquiry proper, as the prisoner was not only charged with the United States Marshal, to be held to await the action of the authorities at Washington on the question of extradition.

Mr. Merrick said it was exceedingly difficult, as the inquiry by counsel as to the innocence of this prisoner, who was to be stood charged with the murder of President Lincoln, and jurors were asked whether they had formed an opinion of the guilt or innocence of other parties named in the indictment as conspirators, a jury could be empanelled in the District of Columbia. It was stated by counsel for the Government that the Government has lost over one million dollars said in a case of this nature.

Lynch Law in Kansas—Colored Men Hung for a Murder of which they Were Innocent—Seven Murderers Ringleaders in the Mob—Senator Wade Refuses to Speak in the Town.

WYANDOTTE, Kansas, June 13.—Senator Wade's party passed through here this evening en route to St. Louis. The crowd surrounded the hotel and called upon Mr. Wade for a speech, which he refused to make. He said he would not speak in a city where lynch law reigned and men were butchered without trial. He alluded to the colored men who were arrested last night charged with murdering a farmer named McMann, a few days ago. They were lodged in jail, but were taken out this morning by a large mob and hung up, but the rope broke, and they were shot to pieces in the Court House yard, where their bodies lay nearly all day. A Coroner's jury refused take testimony, and simply gave the verdict "hung by a mob." The evidence developed to-day indicates clearly that the men were innocent, and that the real murderers were the ringleaders in the mob.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

FRIDAY JUNE 14, 1867.

FLECKS of the coming Presidential canvass begin to float upon the political sky. At Lawrence, in Kansas, recently, Senator WADE, of Ohio, declared for "a more equal distribution of property," through a Congressional intervention. An attempt has been made to break the significance of the intimation by stating that the speech was made in front of a tavern. But the Senator is not bibacious. At Fort Riley, Senator CHANDLER, of Michigan, announced himself in favor of seizing Canada in payment of the Alabama claims. In view of such manifestations all sober minded citizens may well ponder whither the current is setting.

IN NOMINATING JUDGE SHARSWOOD as their candidate for the Supreme bench, the Democrats have made a wise selection, for themselves during the progress of the canvass, and for the people of the whole Commonwealth in case he shall be elected. He is as suitable a man for the place as they could have brought forward. Naturally of sound and discriminating judgment, his faculties have been matured by thorough study and large varied experience. His reputation as a man is unblemished. Indeed, he is a consistent and honored office-bearer in the Presbyterian Church. As a magistrate a suspicion of unfairness or partiality has never been raised against him.

We doubt not the Republican Convention at Williamsport will select a candidate in every respect the peer of Judge SHARSWOOD, so that there will be no room for those personal criminations and recriminations by which political canvasses are sometimes disgraced and popular institutions dishonored. The issue will be not upon men, but upon public policies.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

THE COLLEGE, THE MARKET, AND THE COURT; or Woman's Relation to Education, Labor and Law. By Caroline H. Dall. Boston: Lee & Shepard; Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a book of serious import, written in an excellent style, and for a high purpose. The substance of the volume was originally delivered in the form of lectures. The first course related to the Education of Females, and the thoughts set forth are now printed as "The College" The second course was upon Female Labor and the recompenses therefor, involving the subject of Prostitution as the result of low wages. As revised, the substance of these lectures is placed under the head of "The Market." It is possible that some person, man or woman, may be repelled from a perusal of the volume by this explanation of its contents. Such will make a great mistake. The subject of Prostitution is handled with as much delicacy as plainness; and is one which neither the moralist or the patriot can ignore. Under the head of "The Court," the estimate in which woman is held by Oriental, French, English and American law is delineated. To this is added a valuable Appendix, showing many facts relative to the progress made during the last ten years, in rectifying many of the wrongs inflicted by man upon woman. The work is one deserving of wide circulation and careful study.

—While on this subject we may as well relate a story, the catastrophe of which fell under our own observation. It illustrates one feature of Pennsylvania law, and many parallels to it doubtless occur in the State every year.

Fifty years ago a young man and woman married—a son and a daughter of farmers—and empty handed. They had health, industry, hope. They bought on contract a piece of wild land, and by their united and equal efforts transformed it into a fruitful farm, crowned with a good dwelling house and outbuildings. Forty years they lived and wrought together. No children blessed their union. At last, the husband died suddenly, and without a will. His brothers and sisters took half the personal property, even to the beds and bedding which her hands had made. A jury finally decided that the real estate was not divisible without injury to the whole, and the widow was quickly put into the highway, with an annuity of $75 a year. That is robbery under cover of law, and robbery for no other reason than because there was a woman in the case. It may be said, the husband should have made a will. Doubtless, he should. But no man in whom the instinct of equity is not buried under inveterate prejudices can doubt but the law ought to be in such form as to protect the rights of widows in cases of this sort. The condition of the law illustrates the idea which prevails among men, that women have rights which men are not bound to respect.

EARLY AND LATE PAPERS Hitherto uncollected. By William Makepeace Thackeray. Boston: Ticknor & Fields, Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

These are, as the title imports, a collection of fugitive pieces, some written when Mr. Thackeray was in his young, and others when he had reached maturity; but which he was indifferent about embodying in a permanent form. Conscious that his fame was established on a broader basis than these could justify, he left them to the mercy of time and chance. An ardent admirer of his in this country took upon himself, as a labor of love, the task of gathering and arranging these papers, and re-introducing them to the public. There are thousands of readers, sharing this gentleman's appreciation of Thackeray, who will feel themselves under obligations to him for his enthusiasm and its product.

THE CARTOONS. A Family Pictured. By Bulwer Lytton. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

The writings of Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton long since became standard English classics, from which high position they are not likely to be degraded, either by a change in the public taste, or by the appearance of new authors. Their merits consists equally in comprehension of human nature and an admirable style.

This is known as the "Gobe Edition," and has the advantage of large type, which all readers know how to appreciate.

CROQUET. As played by the Newport Croquet Club: New York: Sheldon & Co.

This is a new and revised edition of a little book which is justly esteemed as an authority.

THE SMALL FRUIT CULTURIST. By Andrew S. Fuller, Practical Horticulturist, Ridgewood, N. J. New York: Orange Judd & Co.

This is a new work, and only devoted to small fruits. Special treatises of this kind have the advantage that the author can more thoroughly discuss his subject, and go into fuller detail. This work covers Propagation, Cultivation, Packing for Market, &c. Its author has ventured to contradict many ideas hitherto entertained.

While very full on all the small fruits, the Currants and Raspberries have been more carefully elaborated than ever before, and in this important part of his book, the author has had the invaluable counsel of Charles Downing. The chapter on gathering and picking fruit is a valuable one, and in it are figured all the baskets and boxes now in common use. The book is very finely and thoroughly illustrated, and makes an admirable companion to his Grape Culturist.

MISS RAVENEL'S CONVERSION FROM SECESSION TO LOYALTY. By J. W. De Forest, Author of "European Acquaintances," "Seacliff," etc., etc. Pp. 521. New York: Harper & Brothers, Publishers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, No. 71 and 73 Fifth street.

The author has attained a fine reputation as a writer, and this work will not diminish it. The late war will furnish material for many an entertaining volume like this, and at the same time enable the reader to vividly recall the scenes so recently enacted. Scattered throughout its pages there are presented pictures of life in New Orleans, and at other points, of the most life-like character. The characters are admirably drawn; each of the prominent ones stand out in bold relief, and are representative in the highest degree. The story also points out the peculiar characteristics of each one in striking language. The success of Mr. De Forest will likely induce him to try his hand at another volume of a similar type.

THE LAND OF THOR. By J. Ross Browne, author of "Yusef," "Crusoe's Island," "An American Family in Germany," etc. Illustrated by the Author. 12 mo. pp. 542. New York: Harper & Brothers, Publishers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

The writings of Mr. BROWNE are much like those of BAYARD TAYLOR, in many respects, and mainly because in his travels he mingles among the masses, and thereby gives the reader an inside view of whatever passes before him, unlike the manner of some who write of men and things very much like descriptions given by travelers passing rapidly through a country by railroad. The volume before is written in a captivating style, and it treats of the manners, customs, and usages of those living in high Northern latitudes, in an interesting and instructive form. Valuable information is furnished to the reader, that is not easily attained without much labor and time, in gathering from various sources. The beautiful and admirable illustrations of the author adds much to the interest in the reading of the book. Harpers have brought out the volume in fine style.

ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, AND ITS COMMERCIAL CONNEXIONS. By F. N. Otis, M. D., with Illustrations by the author. Pp. 317. New York: Harper and Brothers, Publishers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

Comparatively little was known of this country until the attractions of the Pacific drew multitudes of gold seekers to its shores. Among the disagreeable things connected with a trip by that route was the Isthmus, until the construction of the Panama Railroad, by which many evils have been removed. This volume is indeed a Traveler's Guide and Business Man's Hand-Book of the most useful character, and must prove of great value to those who may visit that country. It is also full of information and instruction to all classes of readers. Its profuse illustrations adds to its attractions.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. New York: Harper and Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

The commencement of the thirty-fifth volume of this great Magazine, with the June number, suggests some things as noteworthy. Each number of HARPER contains nearly twice the amount of matter in the English Magazines. Its circulation exceeds the combined circulation of ten leading British Magazines. Each volume contains 200 to 400 splendid illustrations. In all 10,000 illustrations have appeared at a cost of fully $300,000. These facts speak volumes and need no elaboration. The new volume opens with new attractions, and no stint of labor or money will be spared to improve on the past.

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS. By Hurd and Houghton, 459 Broome street, New York.

Competition in the publication of the works of Dickens is running high, each of the publishers sparing neither pains or expense to attract the public. This well known house is publishing three editions. 1. The Globe edition in thirteen volumes, 16 mo., large clear type, fine paper, and cloth binding at $1 50 per volume. 2. Riverside edition, to consist of twenty-six volumes, in crown 8 vo. size, with striking illustrations, at $2 50 per volume. 3. Household edition, complete in fifty-three volumes at $1 25 per volume. All tastes can be suited, both as to style, size and cost.

FAR ABOVE RUBIES. A novel. By Mrs. J. H. Riddell. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

Mrs. Riddell is favorably known to the reading public through "George Gerth," "City and Suburb," "Too Much Alone," "The Race for Wealth," and a number of other volumes. If the present work can be ranked among the best of its kind, it is certainly pleasant reading for these hot June days.

Buried Alive.

Considerable excitement prevails in the township of Rives, in this county, over the supposed burying of a woman in that township who was alive at the time of being committed to the grave. The affair is related to us as follows: The wife of a mechanic named Hollenbeck was about to give birth to a child, and a physician from this city was called. To lessen the pains of maternity, he administered chloroform, the patient sank into a deep sleep, and was soon delivered of a child. The physician returned to town, but visited the sick woman the next day. She had not awakened from the time the chloroform was given, and at the time of his second visit was apparently lifeless. The doctor pronounced her dead. The corpse was prepared for the grave, but in placing the body in the coffin it was noticed that the face of the deceased was quite warm, and the face appeared flushed. The corpse was kept three days, when, on Thursday last, it was decided to bury it. The funeral procession started for the cemetery, and when it had arrived at the grave, the coffin was opened, and a dampness was discovered on the face of the inmate. The remains were conveyed to a neighboring house, and another Jackson physician sent for. He arrived at the close of the day, and after an examination of the corpse, pronounced life extinct. The burial was then proceeded with.

Since that time the matter has been discussed in the vicinity, and many are of the opinion that the lady suffered the awful fate of being buried alive. Considerable excitement prevails in the neighborhood, and the affair is to be investigated. The body will be exhumed and the mystery solved. We forbear any remarks, and suppress the names of the physicians mentioned, until the affair is cleared up.—Jackson (Mich.) Citizen.

CONSUMERS should feel happy in the prospect of falling prices for the necessaries of life. In Chicago, corn, that sold at $1,10 a bushel in the third week of May, fell to 90 cents on June 5th. Oats which sold for 90 cents on May 28th, fell to 60 cents on June 5th. Rye, which was quoted at $1,37 in May, had fallen to $1,02 in June. Wheat, which was $2,35 a bushel in May, sold as low last week as $1,90. Chicago is the head-quarters of the grain trade of the country. The prospects of abundant crops have been the cause of the marked decline. The New York Journal of Commerce estimates the yield of hay this year at 30,000,000 tons, as compared with 21,000,000 tons last year; of corn at 1,200,000,000 bushels, as compared with 868,000,000 bushels last year, and so bountiful a supply should be the reduction of the prices of the necessaries of life to a reasonable figure.

—Suicides are becoming an every-day affair in San Francisco. Capt. John B. Urny, who for some years past has been connected with nearly every paper in that city, as a writer, was found dead in his bed a few mornings ago at his boarding house, under circumstances which leave no doubt of his having deliberately taken his own life. There was a phial of laudanum on the table by his bed, which was partially emptied. On the table was also found a sealed envelope directed to Coroner Harris. In this letter he stated that he was perfectly sane and sober, and took his own life for the purpose of obtaining rest, and requesting that the county would bury him. At the time he committed this act he was local reporter for the Atlas.

—Heliotypography is about to be practically introduced in New York. If one-half that is claimed for it be true, its utility will soon be largely availed of, in the arts as well as by business people. It is certain that by means of it maps, wood engravings, ornamental cards, music, outlines, letter-press, &c., can be reproduced on solid plates, from which hundreds of thousands of copies can be printed. Some of the work which has already been done is really astonishing; and the process possesses the peculiar merit that while it gives an exact fac simile of the thing to be copied, it will also diminish or enlarge the size of the original to any extent that may be desired. It is, altogether, a remarkable invention.

—San Francisco is, in proportion to its size, the busiest seaport in the world. The annual exports are about $70,000,000, the imports nearly as much; the manufactures are worth nearly $20,000,000, the real estate sales amount to about $12,000,000, and the cash value of the land, buildings, and moveable property of the city is about $200,000,000, although assessed for taxation at only $80,000,000. It sends away about forty tons of silver and six tons of gold every month—the former metal in bars fifteen inches long and five inches square; the latter in small bars about six inches long, three inches wide, and two inches thick. Wagons loaded with the precious metals are seen in the streets nearly every day.

A NATIONAL MEDICINE.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the sanguine and variegated bill of some Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. As the outcry against medicinal preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain, or the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are out here preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their almost universal acceptance, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels and liver—in that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburgh, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale at home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Monongahela (Iowa,) Courier, Feb. 7, 1867.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their natural tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases where Burdin has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and as infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnow, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in pleasant and gentle stimulation of the mucous of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met at ten o'clock Thursday, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench, Col. I. B. Duff, District Attorney.

THE FINDLEY TOWNSHIP CASES.

Commonwealth vs. Edward Bendlow, and David and Mary A. Davis, indictments assault and battery and forcible entry, on oath of Margaret Shaffer and Elizabeth Burns, terminated in verdicts of guilty. Sentence deferred till Saturday.

ABANDONMENT CASE.

Emanuel Rough, blacksmith, recently employed at East Liberty, was called to answer for abandoning his wife and child in May last. Mrs. Rough said they were married in September, 1864. Her husband had not refused to support her, but losing his place of employment through improper conduct, very cooly left her to make shift as best she could for herself and child, going to his father's house in Allegheny. The wife did not show that animus which is usually a characteristic of abandonment cases, and her demeanor was in all respects in her favor. For herself she had stated she did not care so much, as she could make a living, and would be content if her husband would support their child. It was alleged and argued that the husband's intemperance and consequent improvidence, (it appearing that he could earn eighteen dollars per week,) was caused by the wife; that she was dissatisfied with East Liberty, and desired to be in the city where she could have a "gayer time" and spend more money; that Rough had been three years in the army, seven months of the time in Andersonville prison, and returned home with a broken constitution and in feeble health, having at times hemorrhage of the lungs, which incapacitated him from following his employment as a blacksmith; that recently he received an injury at East Liberty, which added to his infirmities. These allegations were dwelt upon, but, aside from their irrelevancy to the complaint, abandonment, the proof was wanting. Admitting his wife's dissatisfaction, and the full force of all deductions made therefrom, it by no means justified the defendant in deserting his wife and child, whom he was bound in manliness and honor to protect and save from want, to share with them the last crust. Concerning his debilitation, he did not look the emaciated, weakly creature he was depicted. The following was that he had a "bad cough," but his employer, even his father, could not say that he "spit blood." Per contra, it appeared that he drank at night and was thus unfitted for work the following day, in consequence of which his employer told him he must work more steadily, else his place would be supplied by another. The injury, claimed as adding to his infirmities, he received at a "Dutch Wedding," were inflicted about the head, and if was said he was also internally injured, but the presumption was not irrefutable that these were caused by the "beer" he drank on the occasion. Judge Mellon did not seem to be much impressed with the argument for the defense. In the absence of anything shown to the contrary, Mrs. Rough was presumed to be a virtuous and proper woman, and even what had been urged against her did not apply in the case, as the abandonment was not on her side, and the alleged "gay" proclivity would not relieve the husband of his responsibility. Young men who make mistakes in selecting wives cannot cloak the matter by deserting them. The law does not permit it. Taking everything into consideration, His Honor saw nothing in the way to prevent the husband, or his friends, making provision for the wife to the extent of four dollars per week, and it was so ordered, this order to be modified or enlarged hereafter as the case might require. Counsel desired that the formality of giving bail for compliance with this order be waived, inasmuch as the defendant had expressed his entire willingness to comply with the same, but Judge Mellon declined the request. The matter was pressed, in the view that the defendant would not give bail and would therefore be obliged to go to jail. His Honor said parties sentenced generally suffered more or less inconvenience, under the penalty of the law, and this case could not be made an exception. In default of $600 bail Rough was committed to jail.

ASSAULTS AND BATTERIES.

J. A. Carline was indicted for an assault and battery, on oath of John and Catharine Greenawalt, the latter of whom was also indicted for an assault on oath of Carline. The cases were tried before one jury. Carline was found guilty of assault and battery on Mrs. Greenawalt, and not guilty of the assault on John Greenawalt. Mrs. Greenawalt was found not guilty of the assault on Carline, and the defendant, Greenawalt, each required to pay one-half the costs.

David Chess and Jacob Crum were indicted for assault and battery on oath of Patrick Keenan. Mr. Chess is of the firm of Chess, Smith & Co., rolling mill owners in East Birmingham, Crum is the "boss puddler," and Keenan, the prosecutor, was also employed at the mill. The difficulty occurred on the 25th of April, concerning the wages due the prosecutor. On trial,

The Goldrich Homicide—Further Testimony Before the Coroner's Jury.

The jury impannelled by Coroner Clawson to investigate the circumstances connected with and attending the death of Goldrich, re-assembled at Mayor Morrison's office, Allegheny, at 10 A. M. yesterday morning, J. M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., appearing for Kellar, and R. S. Morrison on behalf of McFarland. The following testimony was adduced:

Charles Wood, re-called—Arrested prisoner; did not see whether any person had hold of him at the time; was standing at the opposite side of the street when I first saw him; he was standing at the right hand side of the door with his right hand raised; saw the flash close to his face; the person was near him at the time. Prisoner had on a light linen coat; he did not try to get away; after I heard the report I ran over the street and saw he was fighting with somebody; saw no person but him when I went in; did not see young Kellar; did Mr. Kellar come and took hold of McFarland; he did not know that I was an officer. Mr. Kellar took McFarland up to deceased, and told him to look what he had done; after I had arrested prisoner I noticed that the glass was broken; it appeared to have been broken from the inside; just before the report saw McFarland have his hand raised; had a good view of him; he said nothing to me about the shooting after his arrest.

Miss Francis Kellar, a daughter of Dennis Kellar, was sworn, and testified that she was in the room at the time McFarland and deceased came in. Her testimony in regard to the beginning of the fight was substantially as has been published. She saw McFarland strike, but could not tell at whom. A stranger who was in the store, told her that he felt the ball pass his ear. She further stated that her cousin, now under arrest, was in the room at the time of the shot, but could not state where he was standing. She did not see him strike McFarland.

Jos. Marshall, sworn—Was going along Ohio street on the night of the murder with a party of friends. Heard some one say there was a fight; was on the opposite side of the street; started to go over to Kellar's; when I reached the curb stone I saw the flash of a pistol; the flash was directly over McFarland's body. McFarland was in a stooping position, as though some one was drawing him in. A policeman then came running across the street and caught McFarland, and dragged him out into the street; didn't see a pistol; hunted for one but could not find it. Didn't see young Mr. Kellar; there were others in the room, but I did not notice them. McFarland appeared to be partly out of the door; didn't notice McFarland have hold of any person; saw him kick at old Mr. Kellar afterwards; heard the glass break before the shot was fired; one of the doors was half opened; don't know which side; I didn't take particular notice of any one in the room; I think I noticed a man in the room with black clothes, with black Kossuth hat, standing near the counter; the deceased, when I first saw him, was lying with his head towards Ohio street; he was lying on his face; deceased was afterwards turned over, and I recognized him.

After hearing the above witnesses, the jury, accompanied by the Coroner, visited Kellar's store room, in order to obtain some knowledge of the locality, and thus be enabled to arrive at some definite understanding of the position of the parties at the time the shooting occurred.

Stewart Charles, Andrew Marshall, Wm. M. Knight, who were with the preceding witness, were also examined, but no new facts were elicited. Peter Goldrich, brother of deceased, had been with McFarland during the entire afternoon, and neither one him knew of any threat made by the latter. The jury failed to agree upon a verdict, and a further postponement was ordered until Tuesday morning next. In the meantime some parties who were in the store room at the time, residents of Erie, will be summoned as witnesses.

In our perigrinations, yesterday, we gathered the facts of an ingenious attempt, on the part of one Hugh O'Neel, of this city, to make a "raise," which we give without comment. Some months since an advertisement appeared in some of our city papers, signed by Mrs. Percell, of Akron, Ingham county, N. Y., making some inquiry for James Percell, who left home over eleven years ago. Mrs. Percell is an elderly lady, the mother of seven children, and enjoys a fair portion of this worlds's goods, or in modern parlance, has plenty of "stamps." Her efforts to obtain information of her lost son were fruitless, and she had given up all hope of ever seeing him again, until, a few weeks since, her heart was made glad by the receipt of a letter from her "darling boy," as she supposed, postmarked "Soho," Allegheny county, Pa. The letter was written in a clever manner, giving an account of the young man's wanderings for the past eleven years, and filled with expressions of love and affection for his tender and anxious parent. Mrs. Percell replied to the letter immediately, enquiring the prodigal to return again to the parental roof, and addressing the letter, as directed, to James Percell, Soho P. O., in care of Rev. Father Hickey. In a few days she received a reply to this still more affectionate than the first, and also a modest request for pecuniary aid, the writer stating that he had been sick and unable to work, and had become involved in debt to Father Hickey, to the amount of a month's board, which he said the Rev. Father had paid for him, adding that if time mother would send him money enough to liquidate his obligations to Father Hickey, and to pay his expenses home, he would come immediately, and also giving the most minute directions how to enclose the money, when and how to direct the letter, and insisting that it be sent by mail. The money was about to be forwarded as directed, when some of the brothers suggested that it would be well enough for one of them to come after James, which plan was accordingly adopted, and yesterday morning Joseph Percell made his appearance in the city and repaired to the residence of Father Hickey, expecting to obtain information which would at once lead him to his long lost brother. But the Reverend gentleman disclaimed all knowledge of any such person. He then went to Soho, and enquired for James Percell, and was informed that a man answering to that name enquired there daily for a letter, but could not say in his whereabouts. He did not like to give the matter up without another trial, and dropped a letter out another trial, and dropped a letter out another trial, and dropped a letter out the Soho office for James, who called for it in a short time afterwards, and was detained until Mr. Joseph Percell who was sent for, could identify him as the fellow an impostor, and made information before Alderman Donaldson charging James Percell alias Hugh O'Neil with attempting to defraud. O'Neil was arrested and held for a hearing at 10 A. M. to-day.

Mistake of the Clerk.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions, yesterday, the Clerk, doubtless suffering from the effects of the weather, in connection with his multifarious duties, a number of parties being in waiting for attention, arose from his desk to announce a verdict which he had just recorded, saying: "Gentlemen of the jury, hearken to your verdict as the Court hath recorded it. In this issue joined between the Commonwealth and ——, you say the defendant is not guilty; this as you shall answer to God at the great day!" He should have said "and so you say all."

Supposed Murder.

Says the Ebensburg Alleghenian: It will be remembered by the majority of our readers that a man named Anthony Campbell mysteriously disappeared from his home in Johnstown one night in the early part of last fall. Though the strictest search was instituted, no clue was ever found of him till last Saturday, when his lifeless body was discovered floating in the river, near Bolivar. On the night of his disappearance, Campbell had a considerable sum of money on his person, and it is generally believed that to obtain possession of this, he was murdered and afterward thrown into the river. The entire absence of money on his person when the body was discovered would seem to justify these suspicions. The remains were removed to Johnstown and interred.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Ben amin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the use of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla, its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic without this inestimable attribute, that it is applicable in a state of the system so remote, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Gold opened ¼ lower than last night's closing quotations, but remained very firm all day long. Yesterday's shipments did not much exceed one million, and to this as well as to the slight advance of our bonds in Europe is due the reaction of the market.

Government securities are unchanged, being above the views of capitalists as an investment whilst there are other chances more profitable to earn a good interest on. Railway shares have slightly advanced, but seem only to draw new elements to enliven speculation in Wall street. Mining shares have partially recovered.

—The "Act to establish an uniform system of bankruptcy thoughout the United States" went into operation on the 1st instant. This is the third time in the history of the nation that a National bankrupt law has been established. The first was enacted April 4, 1800, and limited for five years, but it was repealed in less than three years; the second was passed August 19, 1841, and was repealed March 3, 1843; the present act was passed March 2, 1867. It is to be hoped that this act may remain in force until it can be fully tested. All State bankrupt laws are suspended under the National law.

—As an illustration of the rapidity with which the conversion and purchases of the Seven Thirty notes have been pushed forward it is officially reported that $181,749,800 have been taken in by the Treasury Department during the four months ending June 1. We learn that of these 150,000,000 no less than $84,473,000 of the several series were retired through one banking house—that of Jay Cooke & Co., whose purchases of United States securities during the four months in question are said to amount to the aggregate of $338,946,300, at their New York house alone.

—On Saturday last the United States Treasury held the largest amount of money ever held at any one time since the organization of the Government, to wit: $193,000,000, of which $102,950,000 were gold and $78,000,000 currency. This amount was reduced $10,000,000 on Monday by the maturing of the June compounds and interest, and on the 15th instant will be reduced $9,000,000 more by the interest on the June Seven Thirties.

—The dry goods trade of New York for the last few days has shown rather more confidence and animation. The encouraging crop prospects have somewhat revived the drooping tone of business, and country dealers have operated with rather more freedom. There has been a disposition to buy out any cheap lots, and for some goods higher prices have been bid than was paid in the first half of the week. Another dealer sold 1000 barrels choice thirtbie extra family flour to be manufactured from fall wheat at $10 per barrel, delivered any time between now and the first of January next, at the option of the seller. Thus, a systematic bearing of the market is in progress, and should the weather continue fine until the present wheat crop is fairly in the stack there will surely occur an unparalleled break downin prices, if the peace is maintained in this country and in Europe.—Bee.

New York Cattle Market.

New York June 13.—Beeves—the market thus far has been pretty active this week, and with an improved tone in the market for dressed beef; prices a shade firmer than at the close of Monday. The yards thus far contain 3,600 head, of fair average grades, which found a ready market at figures in most instances from $10@12½, and few cattle touching the highest figure, while the cows went as low as $11¼. No change since Monday; good ready as high as 8¾c for prime; 8½ for poor stock, and some 8¼. Swine firm at 6¾@7¾, with fair demand and an ample supply.

REMARKS.

The Commercial says foreign bankers are somewhat disgusted at the cable for not having reported the further reduction in the bank of England of the rate of discount and regard the early decline of 2 per Cent. as almost certain. The railway market opened firmer and rather higher, but subsequently declined, and closed weak. The Express says there is a general fear of a railway war between New York and Pennsylvania roads, and close competition is anticipated on through business with the West. This has induced some large holders to realize, which adds to the weakness of the market. Miscellaneous shares are all lower, but the upward movement in prices has checked for the present the sharp decline in Pacific Mail. Coal stocks are quiet and firm.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with three feet eight inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather was oppressively hot in the sun, and at times there were indications of rain.

The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth, and Grey Eagle and Bayard, from Parkersburg, constitute the arrivals. The Eagle has laid up for the present. The Bayard got off again about four o'clock in the afternoon. She will hardly be able to make more than this trip.

The Columbia, for Cincinnati and Louisville, and the Bellevernon, for St. Louis, departed with all the freight they could take on the water. The Bellevernon had a barge in tow, and she had a fair number of passengers.

The Silver Cloud No. 2, Capt. Conway, is now loading for St. Louis, Capt. McCallum, of the Armenia, who was in turn, not caring to venture out on the present low stage of water.

The Belle is due here from Cincinnati to-day and will return to-morrow as usual. She is a good low water boat.

The Belle, Glendale and towboat Wild Duck, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday. The Glendale is reported as having a good trip. The Robt. Moore, enroute from Portsmouth to Pittsburgh, passed Pomeroy on Tuesday.

We see it stated that the Great Republic arrived at St. Louis on Tuesday, four days and twenty-two hours out from New Orleans. She was to have left St. Louis again last evening, and will leave Cairo this evening for New Orleans.

The St. Marys passed Cincinnati on Tuesday night, enroute from New Orleans to Wheeling, where she will be repaired and placed in the Wheeling and Cincinnati trade, as a regular weekly packet.

Capt. Dryden telegraphs to the Cincinnati Commercial under date of Tuesday:

River falling slowly, with scant 8 feet in the pass over the falls. Cloudy, indicating rain; wind west. The Kenton passed down, through the canal. The St. Marys passed up. The Hercules, with empty barges, passed up.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—The friends of the Great Republic here are well pleased with the dashing time she is making. She will be here this afternoon. The decline in the river continues here and to Cairo, with twenty feet water in the channel. The Upper Mississippi still rising, and never has been at a higher stage at this season of the year. Heavy cargoes arrive every day from the upper rivers. The Jennie Rogers brought 500 tons hemp, tobacco, grain, &c., from the Missouri, and another 400 tons. The small stern-wheeler Shelton has been sold for $4000, and goes to a southern bayou. Eight mountain boats were recently aground on swan Lake bar.

The New Orleans Times says: A card appeared in our paper a short time ago stating that the steamer Phil. Sheridan passed the steamer Lady Gay under way. The officers of Gay freely acknowledge that the Sheridan did pass them, but say that they had a very light wheel and six hundred tons of freight on board, while the Sheridan was light. There are men will bet on the Gay, knowing by the Sheridan if they are loaded alike.

The Dubuque Herald says: A fortnight or so ago the Times informed its readers that "a well known steamboat superintendent" had left from which everybody supposed that Mr. Wm. E. Wellington was to have assistance hereafter in the performance of his duties as superintendent of the Northwestern Union Packet Company. Now, however, the Times declares that the "well known steamboat superintendent" is gone, and that it referred to the fact that Mr. W. had only been assisted in increasing the labors of the census taker! The story of the man who tried to write under his picture, "here is a horse," and Artemus Ward's style of saying, "This is a joke," we always laughed at as being broadly farcical, but here comes an illustration in fact."

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday, says: The Wild Duck came in yesterday with her tow of barges, and proceeded on to Pittsburgh. We are in receipt of communication from the boats in which exceptions are taken to the remarks, in the Louisville Courier, relative to the conveyor of the boat to handle her barges. It is a matter of no great moment, for we feel assured that the Wild Duck will take care of the convoy, her owners will promptly procure a tame one that can.

On the last trip of the Tempest from Louisville to St. Louis, she attempted to go by the Glendale, when, it is charged, the latter steered on her, and the consequence was a collision, which damaged the former boat slightly. Upon arriving at St. Louis the Glendale paid all the costs of repairs, and so the matter drops. Had the Tempest been sunk, and lives lost, we wonder who would have paid damages in that case.—Cin. Gazette.

The Louisville Courier asserts that the Rebel Lee has extended her regular trip to the city, and will run in that trade from New Orleans. Per contra, an item is going the rounds saying a transaction has been submitted for the R. E. Lee and Great Republic to form a regular line between St. Louis and New Orleans, leaving alternate Sundays and Thursdays.

Capt. De Haven is in St. Louis explaining the principles of his proposed new boat, and soliciting stock. The Democrat says the Captain indorses the Captain's logical powers, but has little to say concerning the boat.

The Louisville Democrat, of Thursday, has the following, in reference to some of our towboats:

It was reported by the "so-called" sheet that the Alps left with 250,000 bushels of coal, when she took 250,000 bushels—one of the largest tows of coal that ever went South. The Boaz, a new and mammoth towboat, left for Evansville, waiting for a rise, to start with a tow of about 200,000 bushels for New Orleans. The tow is now ready, lying at Wood's wharf-boat. The A. J. Baker leaves for New Orleans today with nine barges and four boats containing coal.

The same paper also says: The A. J. Baker run over a drunken chap in a skiff, eight miles below Cairo, coming up last trip. He got out, dry inside and dry outside.

The St. Louis Democrat, of Wednesday, says: We have the renowned steamer Great Republic with us again. We think it will be difficult to find any one now who will say that this steamer is slow. She has been giving every trip evidence of great speed, and we have reason to believe that she can do still better even than last trip. A business trip of four days one hour and twenty minutes to Cairo, and four days twenty-one hours to St. Louis is very well. Officers are either slow or fast, to speak in terms of praise of the Great Republic. Capt. Donaldson left the boat at Cairo to go to Pittsburgh on a temporary visit. The boat had a fine trip of people.

Best Standard Soap,

But in addition there has been a new and valuable chemical compound added to the finish, by which all that harshness so peculiar to other soap is entirely removed. The current as well as the finest fabric can be washed with it and remain soft and glossy as new. One pound is equal to three pounds of ordinary soap. And here for the first time offered to the public, a toilet soap; it is simple, requiring no extensive or complicated directions for using. For bathing purposes it is certainly a luxury, leaving the skin soft and healthy, and can be safely used in washing the tenderest of infant. For all cleansing and washing purposes it is without a rival.

Believing it to be SUPERIOR, and that it will be duly appreciated by a discriminating public, I desire it to stand upon its merits alone. It contains no FEBRILUGE, or any foreign substance; nothing of the kind.
